GUIDE

HOW TO USE THIS PROMPT BOOK

100 personalised historical time travel portrait image prompts — each with 6 variable slots. Replace the [TOKENS] with your details and paste into any AI image tool.

HOW TO USE — 4 STEPS

- 1 Each prompt contains 6 personal variables shown in [SQUARE BRACKETS] — such as [NAME] [ROLE] [PERIOD] etc. Replace each with your own details before using.
- 2 Browse the 100 prompts grouped into 5 categories. Find one that matches the look you want to create — each is a complete image generation prompt.
- 3 Copy the prompt text and replace every [TOKEN] with your personal detail. See the example below — it shows a blank template next to the same prompt fully filled in.
- 4 Paste the completed prompt into ChatGPT, Midjourney, Adobe Firefly, or DALL·E 3. The preamble at the top helps the AI understand each variable before it reads the creative prompt.

YOUR 6 VARIABLES — WHAT EACH MEANS

[NAME]	Your character's name	[ROLE]	Historical role or station
[PERIOD]	Historical era or period	[APPEARANCE]	Physical description
[OUTFIT]	Period-appropriate clothing	[SETTING]	Historical location

No photo needed for some tools. Midjourney and Firefly generate images from text alone. For ChatGPT, upload your photo alongside the prompt for best results.

Tip: The preamble at the start of each prompt (the variable definitions) helps the AI understand your values before reading the creative prompt — always keep it when copying.

EXAMPLE — PROMPT #1 — TEMPLATE VS FILLED-IN

TEMPLATE (UNFILLED)

A photorealistic portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] — standing in a vast ancient hypostyle hall. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Set in [SETTING], dramatic torchlight, ultra-detailed period-accurate costume and architecture.

FILLED-IN EXAMPLE (TOKENS REPLACED WITH YOUR DETAILS)

A photorealistic portrait of ISABELLA as a royal court advisor in Ancient Egypt — standing in a vast ancient hypostyle hall. woman with dark braided hair and gold jewellery, wearing white linen robes with a golden collar. Set in a vast sandstone hypostyle hall, dramatic torchlight, ultra-detailed period-accurate costume and architecture.

↑ Accent tokens = what to replace. Green text = example values filled in. Copy the prompt, swap every bracketed token for your own detail, and paste into your AI image tool.

A spectacular oil painting portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in the style of Jan van Eyck, a Flemish merchant's counting house interior of 1430, every detail rendered with glass-like Netherlandish precision: a desk spread with gold coins on a checkered cloth, ledgers on shelves, imported spices and Venetian glass vessels behind. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Through the window an impossibly detailed view of Bruges with the belfry tower, a convex mirror in the corner reflecting the entire room – as van Eyck himself would have arranged the composition. Set in [SETTING].

A dramatic night portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at the siege of Orléans in 1429, standing on the rampart of the Tourelles fortress just taken, holding a banner of white silk with gold lilies as soldiers cheer and burning timbers cast dramatic orange light across polished armor. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The Loire River reflects the fire below, the expression one of absolute certainty – the face of someone who has never for a single moment doubted that they were sent to do exactly this. Set in [SETTING].

A luminous interior portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – inside the Sistine Chapel circa 1511, working on the scaffold 60 feet above the floor where the freshly applied buon fresco of the Creation still gleams wet – the brilliant saturated colors of the fresco's original state, not the darkened varnish of centuries before restoration. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Below, a cardinal's footsteps echo across the marble floor, looking up at the most consequential ceiling in the history of art being painted this morning. Set in [SETTING].

A thunderous battle portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at the Battle of Agincourt on October 25, 1415, the decisive moment as English longbowmen unleash their arrow storm on advancing French men-at-arms floundering in muddy plowed field. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Overlapping waves of arrows hang in the grey October sky, French knights in full plate armor sinking to their knees in clay mud under the weight of their equipment, the English lines steady and disciplined behind their sharpened stakes. Set in [SETTING].

A stunning workshop portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in Johannes Gutenberg's Mainz workshop circa 1450, the first screw-type press in operation, composed metal type being inked, a fresh vellum sheet pressed and carefully removed to reveal the crisp Latin text of the Gutenberg Bible. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The workshop smells of linseed oil ink and metal, stacked page gatherings showing this is not an experiment but a production – the first mass media technology in history, being operated by craftsmen who do not yet understand what they are beginning. Set in [SETTING].

A grand Florentine portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in the Medici bank counting house circa 1470, clerks copying letters of credit in humanist cursive, balance books open to accounts with the Pope and the King of France, silk cloth samples stacked against one wall. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Through the arched window, the Florentine skyline with Brunelleschi's dome newly completed – banking, art patronage, and diplomacy conducted simultaneously in the nerve centre of European finance by a family that essentially invented modern commerce. Set in [SETTING].

A breathtaking Gothic portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – inside Chartres Cathedral in 1220, just a decade after its completion, the nave filled with the extraordinary colored light of the rose windows in the famous Chartres blue – a formula lost to history – making the interior glow with the quality of light contemporaries described as heaven itself. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Pilgrims crowd the nave, canons chant in the choir, and incense and beeswax candles rise into the vaulted space 120 feet above the worn limestone floor. Set in [SETTING].

A spectacular Renaissance oil portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in the high Renaissance style of Raphael's School of Athens, philosophers from across Greek intellectual history gathered in a grand barrel-vaulted hall: Plato and Aristotle at the center, Pythagoras demonstrating his theorem, Euclid drawing geometric figures for students. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The architecture simultaneously ancient and Renaissance – a dream space for thought where the entire Greek intellectual tradition gathers to argue and celebrate ideas in the presence of the best minds civilization produced. Set in [SETTING].

A dramatic maritime portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at Christopher Columbus's landfall at San Salvador on October 12, 1492, three ships anchored in turquoise Caribbean water, the crew wading ashore in court dress to plant the Castilian royal standard, the Lucayan Taino people watching from the treeline. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The collision of worlds captured with historical honesty – European wonder at tropical paradise, the Taino's reasonable uncertainty about strangers emerging from the sea with iron armor, large ships, and horses they have never seen before. Set in [SETTING].

A luminous studio portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in the style of Jan Vermeer, a Dutch Golden Age domestic interior circa 1665, diffuse north light falling across a scene of intimate daily life. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Every object rendered with Vermeer's specific attention to how light transforms surface – a pewter pitcher, blue and white Delft tiles, a rumpled tablecloth – each material with its own light-absorbing quality made visible in paint, the camera obscura composition and jewel-like rendering making domestic life sacred through pure attention. Set in [SETTING].

A dramatic Baroque portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in the style of Peter Paul Rubens depicting the signing of the Peace of Westphalia in 1648, the great hall filled with diplomats from every European power in their elaborate lace and velvet court dress, gathered around the treaty table after thirty years of the most devastating war Europe had known. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The allegorical grandeur of Baroque diplomatic art – putti with olive branches above, a shaft of light on the treaty itself – and the exhausted human relief of men who have ended a generation of mass slaughter. Set in [SETTING].

A cinematic street portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in Paris during Haussmann's transformation in 1860, a broad new boulevard being cut through medieval tenement neighborhoods, old buildings partially demolished on one side, the new uniform Haussmann limestone facades with mansard roofs and iron balconies already complete on the other. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Displaced residents watching from carts piled with furniture, bourgeois Parisians strolling the new wide pavements – the urban surgery that created the Paris we know today continuing around everyone simultaneously. Set in [SETTING].

A luminous scientific portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in Marie Curie's laboratory at the Paris School of Physics circa 1898, the austere converted shed with leaking roof and equipment cobbled from whatever the university would spare, the residue of processed pitchblende uranium ore in large vats. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The glowing blue-green luminescence of isolated radium compounds visible in the darkened corner, careful notes in cramped handwriting on a discovery that will reshape physics and medicine – and eventually cost her her life. Set in [SETTING].

A sweeping industrial portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at the construction of the Eiffel Tower in 1888, one year before completion, riveting gangs working at the 200-meter level with Paris spread below – Notre-Dame, the Tuileries, and Sacré-Cœur under construction on Montmartre all visible from a height no Parisian had experienced without a balloon. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Workers in work caps handling hot rivets with tongs, the iron lattice emerging from engineering drawings, and the tower that was meant to be temporary already looking permanent. Set in [SETTING].

A dramatic documentary portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – on the Chilkoot Pass trail during the Klondike Gold Rush in 1898, the steep snow slope crowded with thousands of stampedeers climbing in single-file chain, each carrying the required one ton of supplies demanded by the Canadian Mounties, the near-vertical Golden Stairs cut into the ice above. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The scale of human effort visible – 100,000 people attempting this route, an endless line stretching back to the treeline below and continuing to the summit above, driven by the dream of gold and the reality of exhaustion. Set in [SETTING].

A stunning portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at the sinking of the RMS Titanic on April 15, 1912, the stern rising at 45 degrees above the black North Atlantic as the ship breaks in two, lifeboats in the middle distance, the extraordinary lights still blazing through the portholes as the generators keep running until the very end. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The night perfectly clear and bitterly cold, the stars reflected in the calm water around the descending hull, tiny figures on the tilting deck illuminating the catastrophic scale by their smallness against the enormous ship. Set in [SETTING].

A poignant portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at a Victorian outdoor portrait session circa 1860 using wet collodion glass plate technology: a massive bellows camera on a wooden tripod, a portable darkroom tent for plate preparation, the subject sitting rigid and perfectly still for the 30-second exposure required in full afternoon sun. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The complete production of Victorian portrait photography visible – its chemistry, equipment, and social ritual – where capturing a face was still recent enough to be treated as a solemn, miraculous occasion by everyone present. Set in [SETTING].

A magnificent oil portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – in the style of Frédéric Bazille, a gathering of Impressionist painters in Manet's Paris studio circa 1870, Monet, Renoir, Degas, Berthe Morisot, and Manet discussing a large canvas in progress in their everyday 1870s middle-class clothing. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The studio walls hung with rejected Salon submissions and studies – the social reality of the Impressionist circle before their fame, young struggling artists who believed painting should capture the actual visual experience of modern life. Set in [SETTING].

A haunting portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at the trenches of the Western Front on Christmas Day 1914, the unofficial Christmas Truce bringing soldiers into No Man's Land between the opposing trench systems, exchanging cigarettes and buttons, a football kicked in the frosted mud, men standing together in bewildered temporary peace. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The barbed wire, mud parapets, and bare winter trees of Belgium all present – and the absolute strangeness of men killing each other yesterday, exchanging gifts today, and returning to killing each other tomorrow. A monumental portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – on the lunar surface at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Eagle lunar module behind, the Earth hanging in the black lunar sky above the horizon as a blue marble the size of a thumbnail. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. Footprints in the regolith perfectly sharp in the airless vacuum, the gold-foil wrapped landing legs casting long shadows in unfiltered solar light – the immensity of what humanity has just done visible in one small figure standing against the vast, silent, dead universe. A cinematic portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – recreating the quiet dignity of Montgomery, Alabama, December 1, 1955: a carefully considered act by a trained NAACP secretary who knew exactly what she was doing and why, not a spontaneous act of exhaustion but a deliberate choice at a deliberate moment. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The expression of someone who has decided that this is the day, this is the moment – and nothing about what follows will be dignified except the act of refusal itself and the movement it was designed to ignite. Set in [SETTING].

A sober documentary portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at a Texas Panhandle farmstead in 1935, a vast black dust storm rolling across the plains toward a wooden farmhouse, the family on the porch watching the wall of airborne topsoil approach – two miles high, a hundred miles wide, turning afternoon into midnight. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The style references Dorothea Lange and Walker Evans – the dignity of people enduring conditions beyond endurance, and the evidence of how agricultural choices turned the Great Plains into a desert in a single generation. A cinematic portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – inside the White House Situation Room during the Cuban Missile Crisis in October 1962, aerial reconnaissance photographs of Soviet missile sites in Cuba spread across the table, U-2 images annotated with military intelligence markers. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The tension of thirteen days that came closer to nuclear war than any moment in history – the knowledge that a wrong decision in either direction could end human civilisation within hours, carried in the faces of people in a room that history will not immediately know existed. Set in [SETTING].

A vivid night portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at the Chicago World's Columbian Exposition of 1893 at night, the White City's Beaux-Arts buildings illuminated by 100,000 incandescent light bulbs – the first time most visitors had ever seen electric light on such a scale, turning the fairgrounds into a vision of what cities could become. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The Grand Basin with its electric reflections, the first-ever Ferris wheel rising 264 feet above the Midway, crowds in their Victorian best making a once-in-a-lifetime pilgrimage to see the future in the warm, revelatory light of the electrical age's debut. Set in [SETTING].

A powerful documentary portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – with the Freedom Riders arriving in Anniston, Alabama on May 14, 1961, a Greyhound bus stopped by a mob, windows being smashed moments before it was firebombed, the riders trying to escape through smoke while state troopers stand aside. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The specific moral courage of ordinary Americans who bought bus tickets and rode into states where the law promised violence, because the Supreme Court said they had the right to integrated interstate travel and they intended to exercise it regardless of cost. Set in [SETTING].

A stunning color portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – at the Beatles' rooftop concert at Apple Corps, 3 Savile Row, London, on January 30, 1969, John, Paul, George, and Ringo playing on a cold grey afternoon to office workers gathered on surrounding rooftops and a crowd building in the street below. [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT]. The final public performance of the most influential band of the 20th century – playing as if it does not matter that this is the last time, and playing better than they have in years, because the music is all that is left and nothing has consequences any more. A photorealistic oil portrait of [NAME] as [ROLE] in [PERIOD] – [APPEARANCE], wearing [OUTFIT], painted in the exact style of Johannes Vermeer: the Dutch Golden Age window lighting, the characteristic camera obscura composition, the jewel-like rendering of every surface – but depicting a completely contemporary scene. A laptop instead of a letter, jeans instead of a satin jacket, a coffee cup instead of a pewter pitcher, IKEA shelving instead of carved wood. The fall of light, the warmth of the interior, domestic life made sacred by pure attention – exactly as Vermeer would have painted it. Set in [SETTING].
